SSM Health Heart & Vascular Care is pleased to welcome Dr. HeeKong Fong, interventional cardiology.

Dr. Fong's educational journey began at Taylor's University College in Malaysia, followed by his prestigious medical education at Kasturba Medical College in Manipal, India. He furthered his training by completing an internal medicine residency at the University of Missouri - Columbia. Driven by his passion for cardiology, he pursued advanced training, including a Cardiovascular Disease Fellowship at UC Davis Medical Center in Sacramento, California, and an Interventional Cardiology Fellowship at St. Luke's Mid America Heart Institute in Kansas City, Missouri - both institutions consistently ranked among the best U.S. hospitals for cardiology. Throughout his career, Dr. Fong's commitment to advancing the field of cardiology is evident through numerous publications.

Board certified in interventional cardiology, Dr. Fong is a member of several esteemed organizations, including the ACC (American College of Cardiology) and SCAI (Society for Cardiovascular Angiography and Interventions).

Fluent in four languages, including English, Mandarin, Cantonese, and Malay, Dr. Fong is able to connect with a diverse range of patients, facilitating clear communication and providing personalized care.
